

Code of Conduct

Arcola Theatre stands for an industry and society in which all people are treated with equal rights, dignity and respect. We expect all employees, volunteers and visitors to Arcola Theatre to recognize that each individual has a right to a working environment that encourages respectful, considerate and non-sexualised working relationships. We do not tolerate bullying and harassment, including sexual harassment. This code of conduct applies to all members of staff, as well as freelance and contract staff and visitors to the building.

1. All Arcola patrons will be expected to treat one another respectfully
2. All Arcola patrons will be expected to be respectful of Arcola employees. Any patron using aggressive behavior, inappropriate language or harassing Arcola employees and/or patrons will be asked to leave, and this could result in a ban from Arcola Theatre and Bar.
3. NO outside alcoholic beverages are allowed to be brought into Arcola Theatre. Any patron who is deemed intoxicated and/or violating the code of conduct will be asked to leave.
4. All Arcola patrons are expected to dress appropriately, attend to personal belongings and respect the Arcola building and facilities.
5. Photography and filming are not permitted in our theatres.
6. Whilst the consumption of food beverages is permitted in the building and certain parts of the theatre, please exercise good judgment and follow the instructions of Arcola employees at all times.

Arcola is committed to preserving a welcoming environment for all patrons and employees.

Thank you for ensuring that your actions are consistent with this code. Violation of any provisions of Arcola Theatre's Code of Conduct may result in being asked to leave, banned from the theatre, cost of recovery for damages and/or prosecution.
